

Monkey in the Middle (hansbarger)

I'm the monkey in the middle
Of this sorry game that you two play
That's tearing me apart.

I can see where this is going.
You're Houdini and I am just the crowd
That stands and stares.

*And my eyes are blue,
But my heart is black*

There's a house on Nursery Avenue
That reminds me of what we used to have
A long time ago

I can see you in the garden
You're turned to watch the traffic on the street
That took you away.

*And my eyes are blue, but my heart is black
I can only hope that some dark night
You'll wake and look beside you
And you will look back.*

I am standing at the mirror
I wash my hands and wonder
If you feel the same way too.

Somewhere out there in a townhouse
You drop your robe and climb into a bed
Like you used to do.
